PLACING ANIMALS WITH SENIORS

Eighty-Nine BARL animals have been adopted since January 1 as part of our PAWS program. The Placing Animals With Seniors program offers discounted adoption fees to people 60 and older. PAWS is sponsored by Pets for the Elderly; an organization dedicated to making a difference in the lives of seniors and in the lives of shelter animals. 🐾

Two Events

One Sponsorship – One Purpose

Have you been whining about nothing fun happening in your world? Come wining with us at our Canines, Cats & Corks fundraiser set for September 28th. BARL supporters will join together for what's become a staple annual social for our community. You'll get to taste new libations, plus enjoy delectable party food while socializing with your BARL-loving friends. It is a good time and raises money for animals in need. Tickets for Canines, Cats & Corks are on sale at barl.net/events.

Our Barks & Bids Online Auction is set for September 24-October 1. Make our virtual auction your reality shopping experience. If you've "shopped" with us before you know there will be some great items to be had. Get those virtual competitive juices flowing, the auction is coming soon.

Follow BARL on Facebook and Instagram for details on Canines, Cats & Corks and the Barks & Bids Online Auction.

Just a reminder to our potential sponsors...your one sponsorship covers two events. Both with the purpose of helping homeless animals. 🐾

BARL is inherently 'Reactive'. Heck, it's in the name. We refer to ourselves as a 'Rescue' league. However, we do strive to be 'Proactive' as well.

'PROgrams' that are 'PROactive':

- Spay/Neuter program – We constantly vie for grant funds to cover more spay/neuter costs to help the community with these needed surgeries for their pets. Spay/Neuter is the best way to lessen the homeless pet population.
- Return-to-Owner program – A Petco Love grant provided BARL with funds to purchase a tag-engraving machine, supplies and collars. Our volunteers have been attending community events distributing free collars and ID tags. In addition we hosted a discounted microchip event. Our goal is for lost pets to make it back to to their families.

Are you being PROactive? Or will you have to count on BARL to be Reactive? Check out barl.net for details on more programs.

Looking to adopt a cat? Check out PetSense.

The gals at PetSense in Brookhaven were excited when a BARL Volunteer dropped off some cookies for them. Who doesn't love Janie's cookies?

Our local PetSense partners with BARL to house and adopt out many of our cats. Their store gives BARL felines a chance to be in front of more people than they might see at BARL's Adoption Center. This is a definite plus in getting our cats adopted.

We appreciate their enthusiasm and willingness to work with BARL volunteers.

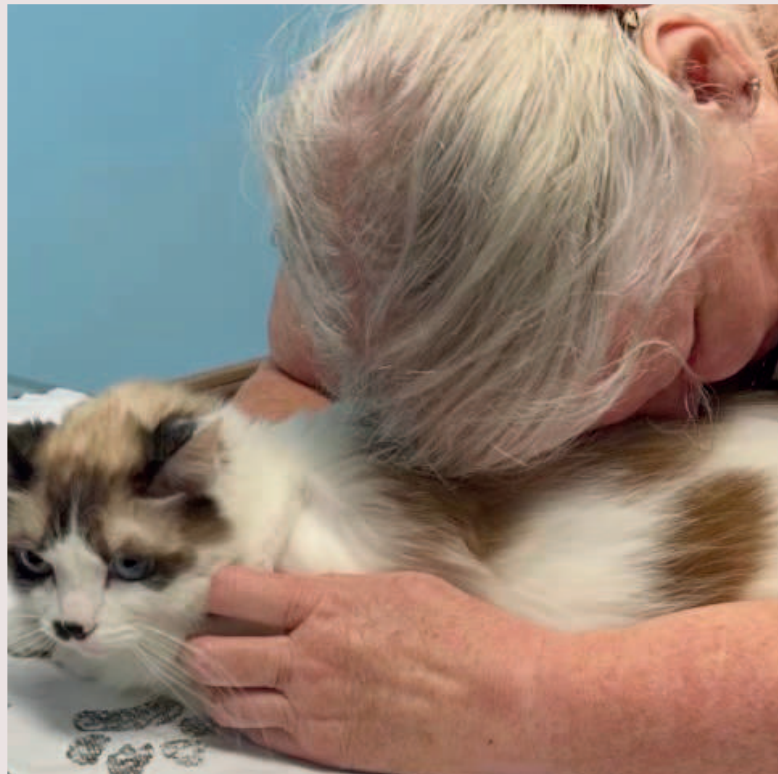

Purrfect Timing

Sometimes it's all about timing.

BARL took in a beautiful cat named Ruffles after her owner was given knowledge of their own terminal illness. Shortly after Ruffles landed at BARL, a heartbroken cat parent contacted us wanting to adopt. She had recently said goodbye to her beloved cat due to health complications.

This photo captured the emotions of the adopter when meeting Ruffles. The adopter needed Ruffles and Ruffles needed a home.

Purrfect timing. 🐾
